

The background of the slide is a reproduction of an ancient Egyptian wall painting. It depicts a large, woven basket filled with onions. The onions are painted in various shades of purple, blue, and green, with some showing signs of decay or damage. The basket is made of a dark material with a visible woven pattern. The background of the painting is a mottled blue and brown, suggesting a wall with some peeling plaster. The text is overlaid on the left side of the image.

INTRODUCTION TO EATING & DRINKING IN THE ANCIENT WORLD

Kitty Sheridan

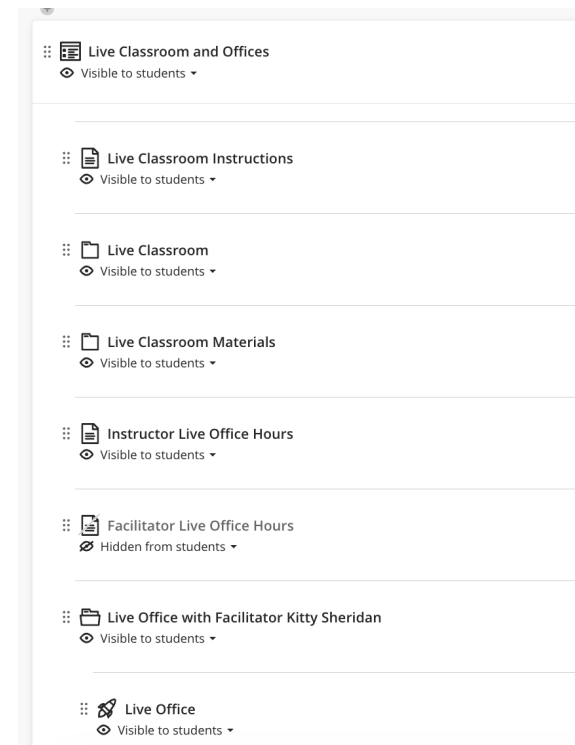

Tuesday, June 30, 2026

CAS AR 280: Summer II

COURSE FACILITATORS

- Your course facilitators are your first point of contact for any questions about this course!
- Find our Calendly links under “Facilitator Live Office Hours”
- Alex Dorr – Groups 2 & 5
 - Wednesdays, 11:00am – 1:00pm ET
- Peter Kovacik – Groups 3 & 6
 - Thursdays, 11:00am -1:00pm ET
- Kitty Sheridan – Groups 1 & 4
 - Fridays, 10:00am – 12:00pm ET

How to access office hours

TUESDAY LIVE CLASSROOMS

- Review course content & answer any question you may have about readings, concepts, assignments, or quizzes
- Schedule:
 - Week 1: Introduction
 - Week 2: Quiz #1 Review
 - Week 3: Research Paper Proposal Guidelines & Questions
 - Week 4: Quiz #2 Review
 - Week 5: Draft Research Paper Review
 - Week 6: Quiz #3
 - Week 7: TBD

FOOD JOURNAL ESSAYS

- Food Journal Essay #1: Due Sunday, July 5th @ 11:59pm ET
 - We do not accept late submissions → be careful of time zone differences!
- Choose 1 out of the 11 topics per Food Journal Essay
 - Each topic has specific instructions and requirements
 - Topics cannot be repeated! Must be a different topic every week
 - Note: some topics require citations and a works cited page! Make sure to follow the instructions
- To Upload:
 - Assignments → Food Journal → Assignment # → Upload Files → Submit

FOOD JOURNAL PRESENTATIONS

- You must submit 3 presentations (3-5 minute) to the week's discussion board
 - Must be submitted by the same deadline as your Food Journal!
 - Presentations in total are worth 5% of your final grade

1. Creativity (4 pts)

Does the presentation highlight key elements of an individual's unique experience with their research or experiential activity? Is the presentation style well chose based on the content delivered? Will the presentation support engaged discussion within the class?

2. Design and Delivery (4 pts)

Is the presentation well designed, visually appealing, and engaging to the viewer? Are the audio and visuals clear and interpretable? Does it adhere to the 3- to 5-minute assigned time limit?

3. Fit with Essay (2 pt)

Did the presentation encapsulate the chosen essay topic? Does it highlight important aspects of your research or experience?

FOOD JOURNAL PRESENTATIONS: COMMENTS

- You must comment on 5 different presentations of 5 different students
 - You can only comment on 2 presentations per week!
 - Comments are due the following Sunday
 - [Ex.] Comments on Module 2 presentations are due Sunday 12th (at the same as your Journal #3 & Presentation!)
 - Responses must be substantive in nature (3-4 sentences) and should offer your fellow classmate constructive feedback or pose a relevant question to facilitate further conversation
- Checklist for Success: ALL DUE ON SUNDAYS!
 - ☐ 6 Food Journal Essays
 - ☐ 3 Presentations
 - ☐ 5 Substantive Comments on 5 Different Student's Presentations (2 a week at max!)

FOOD JOURNAL RUBRIC

- Each essay scored out of 10 points, worth 5% of your final grade
- Focus and Argument (3pts)
 - Does it address the question/topic you chose? If necessary, is there a clear, simply argument that ties the paper together?
- Use of Evidence (3pts)
 - How well does it connect a general argument with specific evidence (either personal experience or research)? Are the data sources used correctly, and do they make sense for this topic assignment?
- Organization (2pts)
 - Is the essay well-structured with a clear focus? Supporting arguments and evidence in a logical order? A coherent conclusion?
- Style (2pts)
 - Does it fulfill the requirements of the topic (length, sources, citations, title)? Is the writing at a college level? Has the essay been spell-checked?

FOOD JOURNAL FORMAT

- 400-500 words
- Double-spaced
- 12 pt font (preferably Times New Roman)
- 1-inch margins
- Essays shorter or longer than this will not receive full points
- No title page
- Essay itself must have a title that reflects what your essay is about
- Must include a separate Works Cited page if you use sources (some topics require sources, while others do not; however, any time you use a source, you must provide the full information in a Works Cited page

WORKS CITED FORMAT

- All sources must be cited in the body (main text) of the paper
- All in-text citations need to be in the Works Cited list at the end of your assignment
- Should be formatted according to the Chicago Manual of Style, 18th edition
 - Author-date format (not notes & bibliography!) → no footnotes!
- Assignments that do not meet these requirements will not receive full points (see the style section)

WHAT DOES CHICAGO STYLE LOOK LIKE?

- Use the following link to see all examples: Citation Guide
- In-text Citations:
 - Use in-text citations to support your claims about a topic
 - Use in-text citations if you are quoting an author directly
- Examples where in-text citations are necessary:
 - Many archaeologists believe that food reflects social values.
 - Who are the archaeologists? From what book or article did you learn this information?
 - Researchers note that “food brings people closer together.”
 - Directly quoting/pulling text from a source, so the author needs credit

IN-TEXT CITATIONS IN CHICAGO, AUTHOR-DATE

- Your best friend will be the Chicago Manual of Style
 - 18th Edition!
 - Author-Date
 - Just look it up online!
- [Ex.] (Author surname(s) Date, Pg. #s).
- [Ex.] (Gerstein 1999, 26-27).
- More than One Author?
 - 2 → (Gerstein and Elliot 2000, 20).
 - 3 → (Gerstein et al. 2001, 23-24).
 - “et al.” – “and the rest” in Latin
- More than One Source?
 - Listed in alphabetical order
 - [Ex.] (Elliott 2021; Gerstein 2022)

WORKS CITED PAGE IN CHICAGO STYLE

A proper works cited page is organized by author last name (A-Z), not by date!

Book: Author(s), Year, Book Title, Publisher, Publisher location.

Grazer, Brian, and Charles Fishman. 2015. A Curious Mind: The Secret to a Bigger Life. New York: Simon & Schuster.

Academic Journal Article: Author(s), Year, Article Title, Journal Name, Journal Volume #/Issue, Page #

LaSalle, Peter. 2017. "Conundrum: A Story about Reading." New England Review 38 (1): 95–109.

Website Content:

Yale University. n.d. "About Yale: Yale Facts." Accessed May 1, 2017.
<https://www-yale-edu.ezproxy.bu.edu/about-yale/yale-facts>.

WHAT IS A REPUTABLE SOURCE?

- For Food Journal Essays, sources can be more informal
 - Cookbooks, news articles, family interviews, etc.
 - NO Wikipedia
- CRAAP Test
 - Currency: Is the information up-to-date?
 - Relevance: Is the source related to your topic? Who is the intended audience?
 - Authority: Is the author qualified to write on this topic? What are their credentials?
 - Accuracy: Is the information supported by evidence? Is it written professionally? Can you find the information in multiple sources?
 - Purpose: Is the information to inform, teach, sell, entertain, or persuade? Is the information presented as fact or opinion?

GOOD RESOURCES

- Where to find reputable sources?
 - Google Scholar: scholar.google.com
 - JSTOR: www.jstor.org
 - BU Library, in-person or online: bu.edu/library
 - For Food Journals: New York Times, Washington Post, NPR, the Associated Press (AP), BBC News, The Guardian, etc.
 - NO WIKIPEDIA
 - Help with formatting citations, FAQs:
 - BU Library citation guide website: <https://library.bu.edu/citeys>
 - Chicago Style Citation Guide
-

PLAGIARISM

- Plagiarism is a serious offence. Cases of suspected plagiarism will be directed to the Student Academic Conduct Review Board. All students should comply with the Student Code of Conduct.
 - Blackboard automatically uses SafeAssign and checks your submission against several comprehensive databases
 - When in doubt, cite your work!
-

POLICY ON AI USE

“You may find AI to be a useful tool to help in research or drafting when working on a writing assignment, but what you cannot do is to use AI-generated text as if it were your own and submit it without attribution, which is a form a plagiarism and a violation of BU’s Academic Conduct Code. You should also always double-check any information that AI provides regarding facts, sources, or citations, as it can (and often does) make these up. If you submit references we cannot verify as real, or include AI-generated text as your own, you will not receive credit for the assignment (your score will be 0%). If you do so a second time during the course you will receive a failing grade (F) for the course, regardless of your score on other assignments, and you will be referred to the office of the Associate Provost for Undergraduate Affairs for academic misconduct, in keeping with the BU Hub Academic Conduct Process.”

UPCOMING ASSIGNMENTS: MODULE 1

- Food Journal Essay #1 → Due Sunday, July 5 @ 11:59pm ET
 - Presentation Opportunity! → Due Sunday, July 5 @ 11:59pm ET
 - Comment Opportunity! → Due Sunday, July 12 @ 11:59pm ET

